

We are a dedicated group that has realized that gratification in life can stem not from making money but providing the best services possible doing what we all are best at. That is the motto behind ESCS and that is what we live and die by.

We provide application development and consulting services for the process manufacturing market segment. We have several partnerships with industry leading software companies that allow us to use their tools to achieve your goals. We are experts in Data warehousing, Ecommerce, Supply Chain and best of breed Enterprise Resource Planning. Our principles have a combined 30-year knowledge base in application development and project management. We can provide the best and most comprehensive solutions to your ERP, SCM, and data warehousing needs.

We approach each client and each engagement as an opportunity to excel the client and take them one step closer to their goal. In the process we expect to improve ourselves as well.

This is how we can sincerely boast that we provide the best to our clients, as we learn we also improve ourselves. With each engagement we have become a better person and thus pass the knowledge and wisdom onwards.

Most important we have the lowest cost structure in the industry. We can provide you the best service at the most reasonable price. We will bill you efficiently and with integrity, unlike many firms who pass on their hidden costs to you, we only want to get paid for the work done.

We think sincerity is the highest ethical norm of a successful consultant, without which we will not survive.

Let us help you achieve your goals and ours.
